K671 DECADE DISPLAY

This module has two parts separated by a 1-foot ribbon cable. One part plugs into any module socket, to make connections with K210, K220, or other sources of BCD information. The second part contains a side-viewing Burroughs NIXIE glow tube, and mounts directly to either a K771 display supply or to another K671 display tube card. The K771 can supply up to six digits of display, providing both physical support and power.
